

The 2030 AGENDA calls for strengthened means of implementation, and a revitalized global partnership for sustainable development both as an underlying principle and specifically through SDG 17

The call for improved migration data is referenced in SDG 17 and the GCM

Accurate and disaggregated data can support better programming and policies to help reduce vulnerabilities, protect and empower people and communities impacted by human mobility

The Global Compact for Migration (GCM)'s whole-of-society approach underscores that migration is a multidimensional reality that needs to be addressed through multi-stakeholder partnerships

Mobile population groups are OFTEN EXCLUDED from official statistics and therefore from development policies

In 2020, only around 31% OF COUNTRIES reporting data on SDG indicators disaggregated it by migratory status

Productively INVESTING REMITTANCES

for sustainable development supports efforts to meet SDG 17's targets on

- » Macroeconomic stability
- » Mobilizing additional funds

LONG-TERM ENGAGEMENT OF THE DIASPORA

for example, can boost remittance levels
