

SDG ACTION WEEKEND:
SIDE-EVENTS
September 16-17, 2023
Programme

OVERVIEW OF SDG ACTION WEEKEND

The SDG Summit on 18-19 September will mark the mid point of the SDGs. It must secure the breakthroughs and momentum needed to change course and achieve the SDGs by 2030. To maximize the Summit's impact, the Secretary General is convening an SDG Action Weekend, which will generate opportunities for stakeholders, UN entities, and Member States to convene inside the United Nations Headquarters and set out specific commitments and contributions to drive SDG transformation between now and 2030.

The SDG Action Weekend will help ramp-up momentum towards a successful SDG Summit and facilitate the contribution of all relevant actors to the SDG Summit. The weekend will generate opportunities for the engagement of Member States, relevant Intergovernmental Organizations, and other stakeholders in the lead up to the SDG Summit.

The SDG Action Weekend will consist of the SDG Mobilization Day on Saturday, 16 September, and the SDG Acceleration Day on Sunday, 17 September at UNHQ in New York.

Civil society, the private sector, youth, scientists, local and regional governments, and other stakeholders all have a key role in the implementation of the SDGs. Their participation, contributions and catalytic mobilization will be essential to the success of the SDG Summit and its follow-up.

SDG Mobilization Day will create convening and mobilization opportunities for stakeholders across civil society, the private sector, youth, women, scientists, and local and regional governments. The participation, contributions, and catalytic mobilization of these stakeholders will be essential to a successful SDG Summit and the long-term implementation of the SDGs. While each session of SDG Mobilization Day will generate specific outcomes, a conscious effort will be made to ensure the overarching messages and outcomes from the day inform the formal proceedings of the SDG Summit.

SDG Acceleration Day will profile actions, investments, and support to accelerate implementation between now and 2030.

It will center around twelve High Impact Initiatives that the UN development system is mobilizing around in advance of the SDG Summit. In addition, the day will feature dedicated sessions on SDG Digital and Generation Equality, as well as a Special Session on Development in Complex Settings.

The SDG Acceleration Day will demonstrate that transformative progress is both possible and already happening in some of the most crucial drivers of SDG progress. Expected speakers and participants at SDG Acceleration day include Heads of State, Ministers, UN Principals, and representatives from the private sector, civil society, and other stakeholders. These coalitions will commit to specific and tangible actions to scale initiatives according to national priorities.

The SDG Action Weekend will also feature a limited number of high-level side-events organized by UN Member States, UN entities, relevant International Organizations and stakeholder networks working in partnership. Side-events were identified through an open call and will be held on both days.

Please check the SDG Action Weekend website for more information on the event and on side-events.
